The second last mohair sale of the 2023 winter selling season achieved superior results. These results are not unusual, as the majority of the top mohair clips in the world are sold in this sale. Although the average market price for young goats and adult mohair increased, it remains a concern that only two local processors dominate the demand. However, it is still a good result for mohair because all commodities are battling in the current world economic environment. If you put exceptional care into your clip, you get the results. Boksfontein Boerdery (Phlippie Retief) of Murraysburg did not necessarily get good individual prices, but because his clip is meticulously prepared through the EGT method, he achieved the best average for his clip this season at R442.46/kg average (98% sold). Beating his neighbour, Threronnie van der Merwe, record on the previous sale! George Stegmann also excelled with the best price at R718.00/kg for his super style, 24.8-micron winter kid bale! Then, the Van Hasselt Farming clip of Jordie van Hasselt, the best clip in South Africa (the world) for the past seven years. This clip just dominated all categories! The price difference between RMS and non-RMS also jumped from 10% to 15%. The next sale is the last sale of the season. HF will have a full catalogue on display for sale on the 5th of December in the Port Elizabeth Mohair Exchange.
